THE NAPKIN ART OF TIM BURTON

Why Napkins? Quite simply, I like to draw on whatever surface happens to be available to me. It's therapeutic. With all of the travel, I'm often in restaurants and bars, and the easiest blank surface (aside from the tabletop or the walls which might not be appreciated) are napkins. If nothing else, it's an interesting reminder of places and moods. I also want to encourage others to create, however, wherever available. It is not so much about the result but the process. For example, feel free to draw in this book if the urge strikes. I've left space on this napkin, just for you.
